

Ricardo Arellano

Ricardo Arellano is an undergraduate student in the Bachelor of Science in Design Architecture at Arizona State University (2026–2032), where he is listed as an undergraduate student. His prior formation is in computer programming at INACAP (2013–2015). Institutional and professional work has centered on applied research, software development, and practice-based writing in Chile's Biobío region. As a research assistant at DAU UBB (2015–2016), he contributed to work on net-zero energy buildings. He subsequently held application-developer roles at DataGen BioTech (2017–2018), where his work included DNA-pipeline tasks, and at Krino (2019–2020). From 2020 he has been affiliated with Estudio Arellano, first as an independent writer (2020–2024) and then as digital strategist (2025–2026). Formal coursework and credentials include MITx's global history of architecture (2021), two University of Tokyo courses on contemporary Japanese architecture—theory and the human dimension (2023), and a Facilitador IdeoDigital credential from Fundación Kodea (2022). Authored work includes the books Sin Prestar Atención, The Authentic Building Blocks, Los Fragmentos del Juego / The Fragments of the Game, and Day Two. Parallel technical output, maintained under the GitHub account rarellanoc and linked to Estudio Arellano, includes computational studies of architectural plans (array_architecture_01), code for computational art (operaciones), notes on 'the roots of AutoLISP', and a p5.js research collaboration. Public writing and project documentation are hosted at ricardoarellano.cl and rickarellano.work.

CV

Institutional

Undergraduate student, Bachelor of Science in Design Architecture, Arizona State University, 2026–2032

Computer Programming, INACAP, 2013–2015

Research assistant, DAU UBB, Concepción, 2015–2016 — net-zero energy buildings; portfolio entry Hospitals, energy evaluation research, 2015

Application developer, DataGen BioTech, San Pedro de la Paz, 2017–2018 — DNA pipeline work

Application developer, Krino, Concepción, 2019–2020

Independent writer, then digital strategist, Estudio Arellano, 2020–2024 and 2025–2026

MITx, A global history of architecture, 2021

University of Tokyo, Four Facets of Contemporary Japanese Architecture: Humans, 2023; Theory, 2023

Facilitador IdeoDigital, Fundación Kodea, 2022

Architecture and design projects

Leisure spaces, school project, 2006

Music facilities, school project, 2007

E proposal, digital representation, 2007

Render, school project, 2007

Detail M, school project, 2008

L, modelmaking, 2008

M, art gallery, 2008

Coffee shop, school project, 2008

Foro proposal, 2008

L, plaster modelmaking, 2009

Bull ring, digital fabrication, 2009

Four houses, school project, 2011

Rietveld house, redraw, 2011

Natural, 2011

89 houses, parametric search space, 2015

Hospitals, energy evaluation research, 2015

Search space, solar mansard, 2016

Restaurant remodel, proof of concept, 2016

Gallery, minor, and parallel works

Arq Show, web about installations, graphic design, 2009–2013

Bicentenario, photography, 2009

Tables, restaurant remodel, graphic design, 2016

Untitled, programming isometric shapes, graphic design, 2016

Maintenance, local, photography, 2016

Bricks, painting, 2018

Chair, drawing, 2019

House, San Pedro de la Paz, drawing, 2019

House 2, San Pedro de la Paz, drawing, 2019

Later computational and written work array_architecture_01 — nearly random architecture plans, Processing

operaciones — code for computational art, Processing rootsofautolisp — notes on the roots of AutoLISP interview_arellano_sandberg — p5.js research note with Emil Sandberg

Books

Sin Prestar Atención — fiction; report on seduction in the art world. Amazon (US), Buscalibre (CL)

En La Cuenta de Otros — Apple Books, from 23 October 2025

The Authentic Building Blocks — English edition; digital and hardcover, Amazon

Los fragmentos del Juego / The Fragments of the Game — Kindle, Amazon; social tactics, after Erik von Markovik (Mystery)

Day Two — talks on architecture, after-dinner drinks and stories from the masters. Amazon

Essays, Spanish site (self-published, ricardoarellano.cl)

Encargo — architecture under given limits; search for evidence in nine interior and nine exterior photographs; cites James P. Carse

Una nueva perspectiva sobre el estrés — stress in speaking with strangers, and enjoyment first

Essays, English site (self-published, rickarellano.work)

It was all an interpretation — 2023 note on AMP

Guys are stuck in first position

This is your yoga — feedback exercise with AMP coaches

The template of the house — architecture studies, and the remark that only the title is missing

A comment like this — pacing in conversation; Decker

Excuses to not be present

To be cool — 2013, The List, integral center

A Call with Mystery — exchange with Robert Beckster / Mystery on identity and hot game

A practice — edits from 2021; architects at Harvard, Michael Hays

The Eraser — from 2019; computation, cycles, and erasure